Is Your Child or Infant

Fussy, grumpy or irritable? Not sleeping well? Crying more than you think they should? Having digestion problems? Developing slowly? Easily upset? Clinging to you excessively? Sad, angry or isolating themselves? If left untreated, these problems may cause lifelong difficulties. Elaine evaluates your child's physical health for structural imbalances and utilizes state of the art, non-invasive tests to identify internal imbalances. Elaine uses gentle, integrative, natural approaches to balance the nervous system and the body so that your child can thrive. By using gentle, integrative, and natural approaches to balance the nervous system and body your child can feel better; allowing you to relax and feel confident that they are being given the best start for a long and healthy life.
